

Training the next generation of health scientists

Chair:

Professor Collette Clifford (The University of Birmingham)

Speakers:

Professor Patrick McNeil (The University of New South Wales)

Heather Baker (University of Auckland)

Focus of session

- The range of Health Scientist roles
- Focus – front line workers
- 2 perspectives now
- Debate wider context

Issues emerging

- A new professional or multi-professional approaches
- Reflects new ways of working or new ways of educating
- Competency frameworks
- Front-line and back row professions
- Economic issues
 - cost effectiveness
 - overseas migration