

A special wel come To Amsterdam

International Peer Review 2009/2010 UBC's Experience

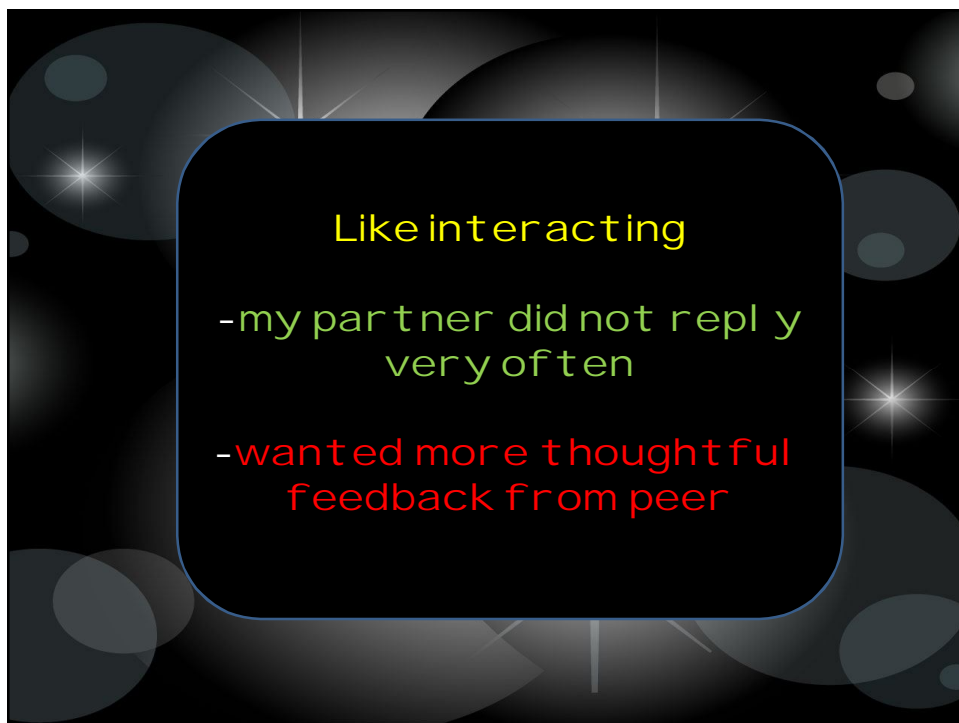

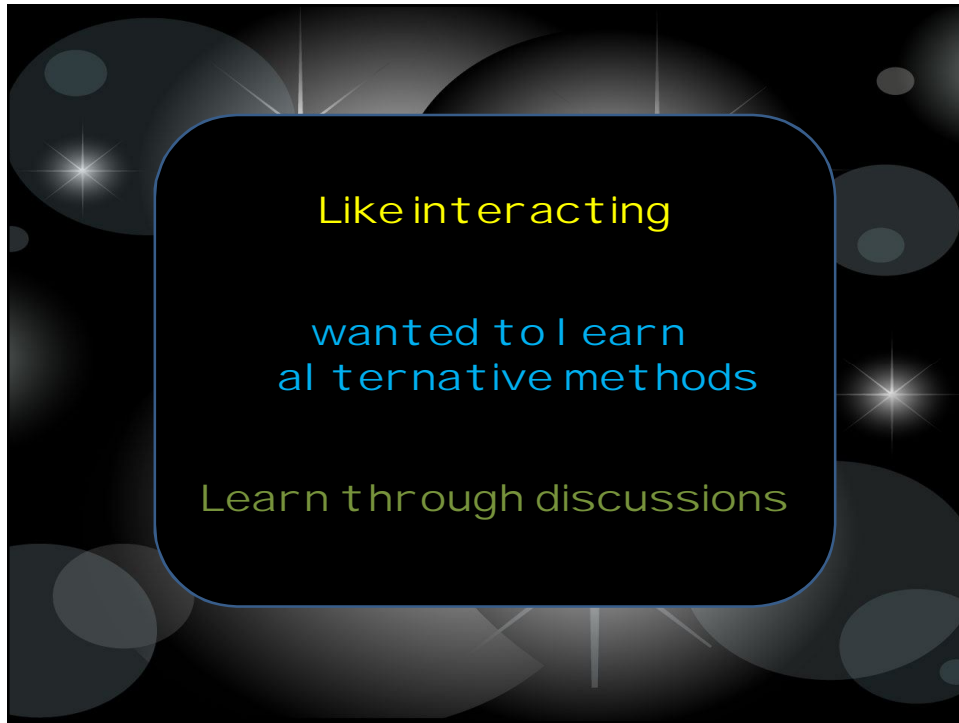

Survey results:

Mainly neutral

Not as positive

An option

Why did they sign up

I kept asking "why"
they kept telling me
"How"

Project is Global Citizenship
Students didn't understand
What they were learning

Common request was more coordination between school s

Louis MacKenzie has secured

£ 5000

- 500 CDN email
notification

Remainder toward a
Workshop at IADR
San diego – March 2011

Suggestions for this year

Forms for name/email

Perhaps a requirement for timely replies

Specific dates for students

Use
diastemas

Not just for IPR

Log out

University of Birmingham

Home About Us Blogs Discussion Boards Search: Search

drkg

- o Account Settings
- o Communities
- ▶ Groups
- ▶ My Unread
- ▶ Administer
- o Log out

About Us

Diastemas.net is a web platform designed for dental students. The word diastema is derived from the Greek word distanai which means interval and is the root word for distance. and in dentistry diastema is the word used to describe a gap or a space between teeth. Therefore naming this web platform diastemas is appropriate as the site is used to connect dental students studying at a distance from one another in different schools. The site enables our students to blog and build communities, with similar features to many social media websites like Facebook and MySpace.

Read more

My communities

Project	New
IPR 1
IPR 10
IPR 11
IPR 12
IPR 13
IPR 14
IPR 15
IPR 16
IPR 17
IPR 18
IPR 19
IPR 2
IPR 20
IPR 21	1 new

